ONE HUNDRED NINETY-FIFTH
COMMENCEMENT

FRIDAY, MAY 3, 2024
and
SATURDAY, MAY 4, 2024

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O! say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

HAIL TO OLD I.U.

Come and join in song together,
Shout with might and main;
Our beloved Alma Mater,
Sound her praise again.

Chorus

Gloriana, Frangipana,
E'er to her be true;
She's the pride of Indiana,
Hail to old I.U.!

—Joe T. Giles, Class of 1894

INDIANA, OUR INDIANA

Indiana, our Indiana,
Indiana, we're all for you.
We will fight for
The Cream and Crimson
For the glory of old IU.
Never daunted, we cannot falter.
In the battle, we're tried and true.
Indiana, our Indiana,
Indiana, we're all for you! I-U!

—Russell P. Harker

ONE HUNDRED NINETY-FIFTH COMMENCEMENT

Indiana University Bloomington

Dear Graduates:

Congratulations! Today's Commencement ceremony marks the culmination of your years of hard work at Indiana University. Let me add my best wishes to those of your family and friends whose love, encouragement, and faith have propelled you toward this wonderful day. The strength of that support helps all of us achieve our highest goals and deserves our deepest gratitude. Today is as much a day to share that gratitude as to celebrate.

Over the course of the years, it may have seemed as if this moment would never come. I am certain that each of you has faced challenges along the way, but I am equally certain that your professors and mentors have instilled in you skills in persuasion, reasoning, and critical inquiry that have helped you to overcome those challenges. Those are the very skills that will serve you best as you face a global future of competition and change. You have prepared for that future on an IU campus that, for many of you, has stretched around the world.

As you graduate today, you are extending the great traditions of Indiana University that have taken shape over more than two centuries. You and more than 780,000 other alumni are a proud and important part of this university's rich and living history. Wherever you go, Indiana University will always be your alma mater and will always welcome you back.

Again, congratulations, and bring on tomorrow!

Sincerely,

Pamela Whitten
President
Indiana University

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

Today's 195th Commencement exercises at Indiana University Bloomington mark the joyous culmination and proud recognition of our graduates' academic achievements. The ceremony is rich in academic tradition and protocol.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The origins of academic dress date back to the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. Long gowns were worn and may have been necessary for warmth in unheated buildings.

The assignment of colors to signify certain faculties was a much later development, and one that was standardized in the United States in the late nineteenth century. White, taken from the white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge bachelor's hoods, was assigned to arts and letters. Red, one of the traditional colors of the church, went to theology. Green, the color of medieval herbs, was adopted for medicine, and olive, because it was so close to green, was given to pharmacy. Golden yellow, standing for the wealth that scientific research has produced, was assigned to the sciences.

Gowns

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including university officials and faculty and visiting dignitaries, wear traditional gowns. Most are black, but some are brightly colored. The style of the gown indicates the highest degree held by the wearer, and the colors represent institutions and fields of study.

The gowns for bachelor's degree and associate degree recipients have a closed front and open sleeves. At Indiana University, candidates for bachelor's and associate degrees also wear crimson "stoles of gratitude," which they may keep as a memento of the day or present as a token of thanks to anyone who has guided them on their path to graduation.

The master's degree gown has extremely long, closed sleeves, from which the arms extend through a slit at the wrist; the end of the sleeve is square, with an arc cut away just above the bottom. The doctor's gown has velvet panels down the front and voluminous bell-shaped sleeves on which there are three velvet bars.

Caps, Tassels, and Hoods

Candidates for associate and bachelor's degrees wear square-topped caps—also called mortarboards—which are adorned with colored tassels appropriate to the school or division from which they are graduating. The same colors are used throughout the United States. They are:

- Arts and Sciences—White
- Business—Drab
- Education—Light Blue
- Informatics, Computing, and Engineering—Copper
- Music—Pink
- Nursing—Apricot
- Optometry—Aqua
- Public and Environmental Affairs—Peacock Blue
- Public Health—Salmon
- Social Work—Citron

Velvet-lined hoods are worn by holders of master's and doctoral degrees. The master's hood extends to the middle of the back, is edged in velvet in the same color as the tassel, and is lined with colors representing the institution from which the degree was earned. Indiana University hoods are lined with cream and crimson.

The doctor's hood is longer, has wider velvet edging, and fully exposes the lining.

Honor Cords and Medallions

Graduating With Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction

Indiana University holds all of its graduates in high esteem and takes an added measure of pride in those who have excelled academically.

Candidates who graduate With Distinction, High Distinction, and Highest Distinction are entitled to wear on their left shoulders the fourragère, cream and crimson cords. In addition, on some IU campuses, certain students are entitled to wear gold medallions indicating that they are graduating with honors. The recorders in each school distribute fourragères to qualified students before Commencement. The requirements for graduating with honors are different for each school.

IU Bloomington College, School, and Departmental Honor Cords

Some schools and departments offer honors programs for students who excel academically and seek an enriched and challenging learning environment. Graduates who fulfill the requirements of these programs receive a notation on their diplomas and are eligible to wear gold or blue honor cords, which are provided by the participating colleges, schools, and departments.

Insignia from Greek Honor Societies

A wide array of honors organizations recognize outstanding achievement in service, philanthropy, and scholarship. Indiana University is proud of all of its students who fulfill the requirements for membership in these important societies, but on Commencement day the university singles out those honor societies that emphasize academic achievement. Graduates who have been admitted to these societies may wear the appropriate cords at Commencement.

Honor Cords for Veterans and Service Members

Graduating students who have served or are currently serving in the U.S. Armed Forces wear red, white, and blue cords.

UNDERGRADUATE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

SCOTT DORSEY

Scott Dorsey is the managing partner of High Alpha, a leading venture studio that launches, scales, and invests in enterprise cloud companies. Over the last nine years, High Alpha has launched more than 40 software companies, made more than 75 venture investments, and raised nearly $400 million to fuel the innovation economy.

Prior to High Alpha, Dorsey co-founded ExactTarget and led the company as chief executive officer and chair from startup to global marketing software leader. ExactTarget went public on the New York Stock Exchange in March 2012 and was acquired by Salesforce in July 2013. Post-acquisition, he led Salesforce Marketing Cloud, which encompassed 3,000 employees around the world.

Dorsey serves on a number of nonprofit boards, including as chair of Nextech, executive committee member and past chair of the Indiana Sports Corporation, board member of the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership (CICP) and the National Venture Capital Association (NVCA), and Global Advisory Board member at the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University.

He is a 1989 graduate of the Kelley School of Business at Indiana University and earned an M.B.A. in 1999 from the Kellogg School of Management.

Dorsey has earned numerous accolades for his business and civic leadership, including as a two-time recipient of the Indiana Sagamore of the Wabash, as well as the Mitch Daniels Leadership Prize, the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year, TechPoint Trailblazer in Technology, MS Society Hope Award, Central Indiana Junior Achievement Business Hall of Fame, Indiana Chamber of Commerce Business Leader of the Year, and Indiana University's Distinguished Entrepreneur Honorary Designation through the Kelley School of Business.

He and his wife, Erin (B.S. '89), met at IU, and they have four daughters. Their two oldest have graduated from IU, their third is graduating with the Class of 2024, and their fourth will make her college choice next year.

GRADUATE STUDENT SPEAKER

PATRICK JOHN BLACKSTONE

Patrick Blackstone is earning his Doctor of Philosophy degree with a major in high-energy physics and a minor in mathematical physics.

During his time at IU, he has been a recipient of the Department of Physics' Outstanding Associate Instructor Award (2019) and the College of Arts and Sciences Dissertation Research Fellowship (2022–23 academic year). Earlier this year he was honored with the William Koss Memorial Outstanding Graduate Student Award.

He has served on the Physics Graduate Student Council (PGSC) as the first-year advocate (for one year) and as president (also for one year). With the PGSC he acted as a liaison between students and the department, organized social events and other activities, coordinated a survey on the climate for graduate students within the department, and helped hold officer elections. His presidency of the PGSC coincided with the COVID-19 pandemic, and he worked closely with departmental leadership during that period to address graduate students' mental health and professional concerns.

During this academic year, he was a member of the Department of Physics' Teaching of Physics Committee. His role on the committee, which evaluated the undergraduate introductory physics courses, was to examine how these courses are preparing students in the premedical track for the MCAT exam, medical school, and their future careers.

Blackstone's role as an instructor was a central focus of his time at IU. During the summer of 2023, he served as the lecturer and instructor of record for the general physics course P-202, which, enrolling more than 100 students and involving organizing a team of associate instructors, is an assignment usually reserved for faculty.

He has worked as a physics tutor, helped with and presented physics demonstrations at Bloomington-area schools, and participated in the Department of Physics' Colloquium Club, which supports the department's weekly colloquia by providing students with supplemental information, materials, and discussions. He has attended and presented at physics conferences (both remotely and in person) in the Netherlands, Germany, Mexico, Italy, New York City, and Boulder, Colorado. He has also volunteered at Science Fest, an annual, public, multidisciplinary learning festival on the IU Bloomington campus.

Throughout his time at IU, Blackstone has been actively involved in the local old-time music scene. Through the Traditional Arts Indiana apprenticeship program, he has been studying mandolin under the tutelage of Bloomington performer and artist Sam Bartlett, and he has served on the board of the Bloomington Old Time Music and Dance Group and taken part in many dance events affiliated with the group, as well as performing at other area venues. His extracurricular pursuits also include Go, an abstract strategy board game, and playing ultimate frisbee in Bryan Park. In the immediate future, he will be applying his IU education to a position in local industry.

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT SPEAKER

HANNAH ROSE PEDERSEN

Hannah Pedersen is graduating, with distinction, with a Bachelor of Science in Biology from the College of Arts and Sciences. She is the recently published author of the children's book Will I Survive the Dentist? She aspires for this book to help relieve any dental anxiety patients may have, educate individuals on proper oral hygiene, and serve as an introductory book to the dentist for families. It is her hope that this story brings to light how enjoyable and educational a visit to the dentist can actually be.

She is one of the co-founders, with six other students, of the pre-dentistry honorary Delta Theta Omega, which was established in 2023. As Indiana University's first and only pre-dentistry fraternity, the organization provides an inclusive environment with the purpose of bringing all Indiana University pre-dental students together as a community.

For the past two years, she has held the position of president of Dental Club at Indiana University. Her duties have included determining meeting agendas with input from other officers, delegating club tasks, and ensuring positive community impact through the club's service efforts.

She is also a member of the IU chapter of the Brain Exercise Initiative (BEI), which sponsors volunteer opportunities at Beehive Homes and Jill's House, two local agencies that serve people experiencing memory loss due to Alzheimer's disease. Her activities as a volunteer include engaging in conversation with, reading and writing to, and playing games with those served by these agencies, as well as helping staff members with their tasks. "Through BEI," she says, "I have been able to explore a new outlook on volunteering that I have fallen so in love with."

Beyond the IU chapter, she has worked on the BEI National Newspaper Committee to create a monthly newspaper for the BEI community. Her small team was selected from a substantial applicant pool representing universities throughout the United States.

In the spring of 2022, she had the privilege of traveling to six colleges in Boston, Massachusetts, for prayer and fellowship with students and missionaries on those campuses through Chi Alpha Campus Ministry.

In the fall of 2024, she will begin attending the Indiana University School of Dentistry. After completing the school's four-year Doctor of Dental Surgery program, she plans to work as a general dentist.

Congratulations

to this year's Outstanding Senior Awards recipients!
